DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 9-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over JP 2002-126985, cited by application (English language equivalent US 6,688,944). As set forth in the previous Office action, '985, see English language equivalent '944, for example figure 10, discloses the claimed invention, including a method for processing a chamfering of an eyeglass lens, comprising the steps of: preparing an eyeglass lens having an anterior refracting surface and a posterior refracting surface; forming a V-shaped portion on the edge surface; forming a front edge portion on the edge surface at one side of the V-shaped portion disposed adjacent to the anterior refracting surface, and forming a back edge portion on the edge surface at a second side of the V-shaped portion disposed adjacent to the posterior refracting surface; and chamfering the posterior refracting surface so that a width of the back edge portion in a thickness direction of the eyeglass lens is larger than a width of the front edge portion. As shown in figure 10, and prior art figure 11, the width of the back edge portion is greater than the width of the front edge portion. If applicant argues that '985 does not expressly describe/disclose within the description of the figure that the width of the back edge portion is greater than the front edge portion, then it is the examiner's position that '985 does disclose that the width of the portions is arbitrary, and that one of ordinary skill in the art would have considered it obvious to have provided '985 with portions of whatever size desired, including that shown in figure 10. A change in size is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art. In re Rose, 105 USPQ 237 (CCPA 1955).

Regarding claims 10 and 11, limiting the specific relative sizes of the portions, '985 discloses that the back edge portion is a greater width than the front edge portion, but does not disclose the relative sizes. One of ordinary skill in the art would have considered it obvious to have provided '985 with portions of whatever size desired, including that shown in figure 10. A change in size is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art. In re Rose, 105 USPQ 237 (CCPA 1955).

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed 16 January 2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that '985 does not disclose the rear portion width greater than the front portion width. Please review the above rejection. It is noted that applicant is relying upon a specific disclosure in an attempt to overcome '985. In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., the reasons for setting the widths) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993). Here, applicant has cited [0164] in support of the different widths of the front and rear portions. It is noted that this disclosure does not support the invention now claimed, as it applies only to a groove and not a V-shaped portion as claimed. Applicant has differentiated the groove from the V-shaped (raised) or flat portion. There is no disclosure that the relative widths are critical to the method of forming the lens.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
